About the Workshops

Workshop I: Spiritual Imagination

Imagination is seen by some as an ambiguous gift, something that is admired in children but suspected in adults. Yet without it much that we value would never come to be. This workshop explores the significance of imagination with respect to our journey of faith.

Workshop II: God’s People Sing

Songs of the church can occupy up to a third of the worship time, but rarely is much thought given to why all – not just choirs – are expected to sing. What enlivens the songs of the church in an increasingly globalized world? In this workshop we will think about these things with plenty of examples to sing.
